WHEREAS, the Northwest Portland Area Indian Health Board (hereinafter "NPAIHB" or the "Board") was established in 1972 to assist Tribal governments to improve the health status and quality of life of Indian people; and

WHEREAS, the NPAIHB is a "tribal organization" as defined by the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (P.L. 93-638 seq. et al) that represents forty-three federally recognized tribes in the states of Idaho, Oregon, and Washington; and

WHEREAS, in accordance with the definitions of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act at 25 USCS § 450b, a tribal organization is recognized as a governing body of any Indian tribe and includes any legally established organization of Indians which is controlled, sanctioned, or chartered by such governing body or which is democratically elected by the adult members of the Indian community to be served by such organization and which includes the maximum participation of Indians in all phases of its activities; and

WHEREAS, the NPAIHB is dedicated to assisting and promoting the health needs and concerns of Indian people; and

WHEREAS, the primary goal of the NPAIHB is to improve the health and quality of life of its member Tribes; and

WHEREAS, on January 31-February 1, 2011, the IHS Director convened the IHS Contract Support Cost Workgroup to make recommendations to improve the fairness and equity of the Agency's CSC Policy; and

WHEREAS, the Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium and the Indian Health Service (IHS) Community Health Aide Program Certification Board developed the Dental Health Aide Therapist Program as an expansion of the well-established Community Health Aide Program (CHAP) to address the unmet dental care needs for Alaska Natives; and

WHEREAS, dental therapists work under the supervision¹ of a dentist, performing cleanings, fillings, and simple extractions and present a tremendous opportunity for addressing the unmet dental care needs in Indian Country; and

WHEREAS, the Indian Health Care Improvement Act requires that Dental Health Aide Therapists may operate outside of Alaska only where similar midlevel dental providers are authorized by state law and in most instances will need to be supported by state legislation; and

WHEREAS, NPAIHB adopted Resolution No. 11-## to support and approve such legislation creating a licensing program for Dental Health Aide Therapists and Advanced Dental Therapists to improve access to dental services and the health of rural, tribal and underserved populations;

WHEREAS, such legislation sets minimum educational requirements and limitations on the types of services that may be performed by midlevel dental health providers; and

WHEREAS, in order for such midlevel dental providers to effectively address the dental care needs of Indian communities, the educational and scope of practice requirements should be based on the successful Alaska model, which follows closely international models. The Alaska model requires two years with approximately 3,000 hours of extremely comprehensive classroom and clinical training, followed by a 3- to 6-month preceptorship, in which they work side-by-side with a supervising dentist.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that NPAIHB strongly recommends that any state legislation to establish midlevel dental providers must allow similar educational and scope of practice requirements that exist in the Alaska Dental Health Aide Therapist and Advanced Dental Therapist model.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that NPAIHB recognizes that such legislation can be accomplished by limiting such requirements to federal programs authorized under the Indian Health Care Improvement Act.
