

SAVE THE DATE

September 28-30, 2010

7th Annual Tribal Emergency Preparedness Conference:
Bridging the Gap Between Emergency Management & Public Health

Joint conference between the Northwest Portland Area Indian Health Board
& the NW Tribal Emergency Management Council

Hosted by the Chehalis Tribe at Great Wolf Lodge, Grand Mound, WA

Northwest Portland Area
Indian Health Board
Indian Leadership for Indian Health

7th Annual Tribal Emergency Preparedness Conference
Bridging the Gap Between Emergency Management & Public Health
September 28-30, 2010
Hosted by the Chehalis Tribe at Great Wolf Lodge
1-800-640-WOLF (9653) Group Code "2010EP" (Reservations)

The Emergency Preparedness Conference is an annual event that brings together tribal, state, local and federal agencies to discuss collaboration efforts and training to improve tribal emergency preparedness and response.

Participants will have the opportunity to learn about:

- Tribal best practices and cultural awareness
- Mutual aid agreements and memorandums of understanding
- Cross-discipline coordination and comprehensive emergency management
- Pandemic influenza and emerging infectious disease
- Other timely emergency and public health priorities

We encourage public health professionals, emergency managers, first responders, and community members to attend!

For more information, visit our website:

http://www.npaihb.org/resources/emergency_preparedness/

Or contact NPAIHB Project Coordinator, Tacey Casey at (503) 416-3267 or tcasey@npaihb.org

In collaboration with the Idaho Department of Health & Welfare, Oregon Department of Human Services, Washington State Department of Health, and Northwest Center for Public Health Practice. Funded by the Washington State Department of Health.

Northwest Center for Public Health Practice
School of Public Health, University of Washington  for 20 years.