HHS FY 2013 National Budget Consultation Update

On January 11th, the Department of Health and Human Services released a “Dear Tribal Leader Letter” inviting Tribes to the 14th Annual U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) Tribal Budget Consultation (ATBC) which will take place from March 7th to March 9th, 2012, in the Great Hall of the Hubert H. Humphrey Building at 200 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington.

Update: HHS has released the following presentation protocol for the consultation:

Presentation Protocol for the March 2012 National Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) Tribal Budget and Policy Consultation

For the National HHS Tribal Budget and Policy Consultation, HHS will use the presentation protocol as set forth in the HHS Tribal Consultation Policy on page 13 of 22, which reads:

9. Presentation protocol will ensure that the highest ranking official from each respective Tribe is given the opportunity to address the session first, followed by other elected officials, those designated by their elected official to represent their respective Indian Tribes and representatives of Indian/ Tribal Organizations.

- i. Official letter from the Indian Tribe designating a representative must be presented to IGA before the session begins.*

Order of Tribal Leadership Presentation: In the open sessions, HHS will offer the highest-ranking official from each respective Tribe the first opportunity to address the session followed by other elected officials and those designated to speak for a Tribe or Tribal Organizations. For example, the order of presentation in which HHS will follow is:

1. Tribal President/Chairperson/Governor
2. Tribal Vice-President/Vice-Chairperson/Lt. Governor
3. Elected or Appointed Tribal Official
4. Designated Tribal Official/Representative of Indian/Tribal Organization

Designation of Non-Elected Tribal

Official: Individuals who are not elected or appointed Tribal Officials but will be representing his/her respective Tribe will need to bring an official letter from the Tribe authorizing he/she to speak on behalf of the Tribe.

Reminders:

- Bring an official letter from your Tribe to the HHS Consultation if you are not an elected Tribal Leader and planning to represent your Tribe.
- Register for the consultation by completing the attached registration form.
- Submit Written Testimony by Thursday, February 23rd.

The final planning call will take place this Thursday, February 16th, at 3:00 pm EST.

IHS Announces 2012 Tribal Consultation Summit

The Indian Health Service (IHS) recently released dates for its 2012 Tribal Consultation Summit. The Summit will be held March 13-14th in the Washington, DC Metropolitan Area. Further details will be released as they become available. For more information, click here.

Health Reform to Require Insurers to Use Plain Language in Describing Health Plan Benefits, Coverage

People in the market for health insurance will soon have clear, understandable and straightforward information on what health plans will cover, what limitations or conditions will apply, and what they will pay for services thanks to the Affordable Care Act— according to final regulations published last week.

Under the rule, health insurers must provide consumers with clear, consistent and comparable summary information about their health plan benefits and coverage. The new explanations, which will be available beginning, or soon after, September 23, 2012 will be a critical resource for the roughly 150 million Americans with private health insurance.

Specifically, these rules will ensure consumers have access to two key documents that will help them understand and evaluate their health insurance choices:

- A short, easy-to-understand Summary of Benefits and Coverage (or “SBC”); and
- A uniform glossary of terms commonly used in health insurance coverage, such as “deductible” and “co-payment.”

All health plans and insurers will provide an SBC to shoppers and enrollees at important points in the enrollment process, such as upon application and at renewal. A key feature of the SBC is a new, standardized plan comparison tool called “coverage examples,” similar to the Nutrition Facts label required for packaged foods. The coverage examples will illustrate sample medical situations and describe how much coverage the plan would provide in an event such as having a baby (normal delivery) or managing Type II diabetes (routine maintenance, well-controlled). These examples will help consumers understand and compare what they would have to pay under each plan they are considering.
