Subject: Invitation to attend CDC Orientation for New Health Officials

Sent on behalf of Dr. Monroe & Delight Satter:

Dear Tribal Health Leader:

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) Office for State, Tribal, Local and Territorial Support is pleased to inform you about the upcoming CDC Orientation for New Health Officials, October 15–17, 2012. The orientation will be held at CDC's headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia.

This orientation is exclusively for new health officials and tribal leaders and offers you an important opportunity to

- Learn about CDC and its priorities
- Share with CDC your urgent realities and competing priorities at the front lines of public health, and discuss about how CDC may assist you in your efforts
- Dialogue with experienced health officials to gain insight on how to more effectively meet your public health goals
- Engage in interactive sessions highlighting promising public health practices and innovative strategies to reduce the leading causes of death and disability and improve health outcomes
- Tour CDC's main campus, including the Emergency Operations Center

If you are interested in attending the orientation, please respond to Brook Nash at anash@cdc.gov by July 6, 2012. Please note that regional representation is a consideration in attendee selection and you will be notified once your attendance has been confirmed. Should you have any questions, please contact Brook Nash via email or at (404) 498-0239.

We encourage you to make every effort to attend this orientation. Your participation is crucial in helping to strengthen collaboration and public health service for CDC and state, tribal, local, and territorial health departments.

Sincerely,

Delight Satter, MPH
