AMOUNT: Each grant awarded will be up to $250,000 for up to 24 months.

DESCRIPTION: Where you live matters a great deal to your health and well-being, and that of your family. Not everyone has the same chance to live in a safe neighborhood with great schools, healthy food options, public libraries, community centers, parks and trails, transportation hubs, and access to employment centers. RWJF recognizes the role that housing policies, laws, and regulations can play in promoting neighborhood conditions that positively shape health and well-being.

Eligible applicant organizations include academic institutions; public entities; private nonprofit organizations, state and local government agencies; and for-profit organizations based in the United States or its territories. William T. Grant Foundation - Research Grants on -Reducing Inequality

DEADLINE: The next deadline for letters of inquiry is May 6, 2020 at 3:00 pm EST.

AMOUNT: Major research grants on reducing inequality typically range between $100,000 and $600,000 and cover two to three years of support. Projects involving secondary data analysis are at the lower end of the budget range, whereas projects involving new data collection and sample recruitment can be at the higher end. Proposals to launch experiments in which settings (e.g., classrooms, schools, youth programs) are randomly assigned to conditions sometimes have higher awards. In addition to financial support, the Foundation invests significant time and resources in capacity-building for research grantees. We provide opportunities for connections with other scholars, policymakers, and practitioners, and we organize learning communities for grantees in each focus area. Such meetings allow grantees to discuss challenges, seek advice from peers and colleagues, and collaborate across projects. To strengthen our grantees' capacities to conduct and implement strong qualitative and mixed-methods work, the Foundation provides access to a consultation service.

Officers' research grants

Officers' research grants on reducing inequality are a separate funding mechanism for smaller projects with budgets ranging from $5,000 to $50,000. Some are standalone projects; others build off larger projects. The budget should be appropriate for the activities proposed.

2020 APPLICATION GUIDELINES -AWARDS 12

Projects involving secondary data analysis are typically at the lower end of the budget range, whereas projects involving new data collection and sample recruitment can be at the higher end. Submissions for the Officers' research grants will be accepted on the January 9, 2020 and August 4, 2020 deadlines. Letters of inquiry for the Officer's research grants will not be accepted for the May 6, 2020 deadline. Similar to the major grants program, we encourage research projects led by African American, Latinx, Native American, and Asian Pacific American researchers. Early career scholars are also encouraged to apply for these grants as a way to build their research programs.

DESCRIPTION: The Foundation's mission is to support research to improve the lives of young people ages 5-25 in the United States. One way that we pursue this mission is by investing in high-quality field-initiated studies on reducing inequality in youth outcomes. Our focus on reducing inequality grew out of our view that research can do more than help us understand the problem of inequality—it can generate effective responses. We believe that it is time to build stronger bodies of knowledge on how to reduce inequality in the United States and to move beyond the mounting research evidence about the scope, causes, and consequences of inequality. Toward this end, we seek studies that aim to build, test, or increase understanding of programs, policies, or practices to reduce inequality in the academic, social, behavioral, or economic outcomes of young people. We prioritize studies about reducing inequality on the basis of race, ethnicity, economic standing, language minority status, or immigrant origins. Proposals for studies are evaluated based on their fit with our interests in reducing inequality; the strength and feasibility of their designs, methods, and analyses; their potential to inform change; and their contribution to theory and empirical evidence. The Foundation does not have a preference for a particular research design or method. We begin application reviews by looking at the research questions or hypotheses. Then we evaluate whether the proposed research designs and methods will provide empirical evidence on those questions. We support studies from a range of disciplines, fields, and methodologies, and we encourage investigations into various systems, including justice, housing, child welfare, mental health, and education. The most competitive proposals often incorporate data from multiple sources and often involve multidisciplinary teams. Across all of our programs, we strive to support a diverse group of researchers in terms of race, ethnicity, gender, and seniority, and we encourage research projects led by African American, Latinx, Native American, and Asian Pacific American researchers.

NORTHWEST PORTLAND AREA INDIAN HEALTH BOARD
Funding Opportunities

Investigators conducting research to develop actionable solutions to one or more of these symptoms of low value healthcare are encouraged to apply to the Greater Value Portfolio program.

Eligible topics include studies that focus on improving value through promising strategies using one or more of these approaches:

Test models of care, coverage or system change that seek to improve value by addressing one or more of the symptoms of low value

Reduce routine treatments, tests, and screenings for patients for whom the potential harms (including financial harm) outweigh potential benefits

Provide tools to help consumers make decisions about their healthcare based on value, including the cost of care to patients, in addition to other patient-centered factors

Promote conversations between patients and their clinicians and care teams about preferences and trade-offs related to alternative treatment options and /or out of pocket cost burden to patients and families

Test interventions geared to reducing racial and ethnic disparities through the provision of higher value healthcare

In all programs, the Foundation requires applicants to demonstrate that they have reviewed their research questions, protocols, sampling, and data analyses to ensure that they do not inadvertently mask or exacerbate racial, ethnic or gender health inequities.

Department of Health and Human Services -National Institutes of Health

DEADLINE: May 15, 2020

AMOUNT: $400,000

DESCRIPTION: Nearly 40,000 people in the U.S. die from firearm-related deaths each year, primarily from suicide (60%) or homicide (37%), and many more have experienced non-fatal firearm injuries, both intentional and nonintentional. The Joint Explanatory Statement accompanying the FY2020 Further Consolidated Appropriations Act (H.R. 1865) included funding for the NIH to conduct research on firearm injury and mortality prevention and recommended that NIH take a comprehensive approach to studying the underlying causes and evidence-based methods of prevention of firearm injury, including crime prevention. Notice of Funding Opportunity for NRCS's Regional Conservation Partnership Program (RCPP) – RCPP Alternative Funding Arrangement for Federal fiscal year (FY) 2020. USDA -Department of Agriculture -Natural Resources Conservation Service

DEADLINE: May 18, 2020

AMOUNT: $250,000

DESCRIPTION:

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

DUE DATE: Applications must be received by NRCS by 11:59pm Eastern Time on May 18th.

NOTE: This announcement is for the RCPP Alternative Funding Arrangement (AFA) competition, through which NRCS can make up to 15 awards per fiscal year, providing RCPP funding directly to eligible partners using a grant-like approach.

The fiscal year 2020 RCPP Classic funding announcement is scheduled for release in summer 2020. For RCPP Classic, a majority of RCPP funding is provided by NRCS to producers and landowners through contracts and conservation easements. Through AFAs, RCPP funding is provided to partners, which in turn are responsible for working with and providing funding to producers and landowners for eligible conservation activities.

The Regional Conservation Partnership Program (RCPP) promotes coordination of NRCS conservation activities with partners that offer value-added contributions that expand our collective ability to address on-farm, watershed, and regional natural resource concerns. NRCS seeks to co-invest with RCPP partners to implement projects that demonstrate innovative solutions to conservation challenges and provide measurable improvements and outcomes tied to the resource concerns they seek to address.

Through RCPP, partners propose projects—using guidance contained in this notice—that generate conservation benefits by addressing specific natural resource objectives in a state/multistate area, or address one or more primary resource concerns within a Critical Conservation Area (CCA). NRCS and partners design, implement and evaluate RCPP projects on agricultural and non-industrial private forest land.

The 2018 Farm Bill reauthorized RCPP and made several substantive changes to the program. RCPP is now a standalone program driven by three key objectives—incorporating innovation and flexibility, leveraging partner contributions and measuring environmental outcomes. NRCS will co-invest in projects selected through a competitive application process that evaluates applications based on four criteria: impact, partner contributions, innovation, and partnerships and management.

Another change to the RCPP statute modified a provision authorizing NRCS to provide funding to entities through AFAs, leading to the development of this RCPP AFA funding announcement. RCPP AFA is intended to support project structures and approaches that cannot be carried out as effectively through RCPP Classic.

NORTHWEST PORTLAND AREA INDIAN HEALTH BOARD
Funding Opportunities

RCPP AFA applicants must describe the innovative nature of the conservation approach they are proposing to justify potential funding through the AFA funding announcement, versus RCPP Classic. Additionally, applicants should consider the additional administrative and technical assistance responsibilities that accompany receipt of an AFA award.

The 2018 Farm Bill statute provides examples of project types that might be implemented through RCPP AFA:

Projects that use innovative approaches to leverage the Federal investment in conservation;

Projects that deploy a pay-for-performance conservation approach;

Projects that seek large-scale infrastructure investments that generate conservation benefits for agricultural producers and nonindustrial private forest owners.

Although RCPP AFA provides flexibilities to partners, these projects share the overarching focus of RCPP — engaging with producers and landowners to implement conservation practices, systems and approaches on or for the benefit of agricultural and forest lands.

This notice announces the availability of funding for up to 15 RCPP AFA projects in fiscal year 2020. Applications are accepted from all 50 States, the Caribbean Area (Puerto Rico and U.S. Virgin Islands), and U.S. territories in the Pacific Island Areas (Guam, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands).

SUBMISSIONS: Applications must be submitted through the RCPP Portal: <https://nrcc-sites.secure.force.com/>

FOR MORE INFORMATION: A webinar for interested RCPP applicants is scheduled for 3 p.m. Eastern Time on April 2nd. Information on how to tune into the webinar, along with all other RCPP application information, is housed on the national RCPP webpage: <https://www.nrcs.usda.gov/wps/portal/nrcs/main/national/programs/financial/rcpp/>

Partners may email the RCPP inbox -- rcpp@usda.gov with questions about this announcement.

DESCRIPTION: CDC's Injury Center announces the availability of fiscal year 2020 funds to implement CDC-RFA-CE20-2001, Comprehensive Suicide Prevention. This Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) supports implementation and evaluation of a comprehensive public health approach to suicide prevention. Such an approach includes strong leadership as the convener of multi-sectoral partnerships; prioritizes data to identify vulnerable populations and to better characterize risk (e.g., relationship, job/financial, mental health problems) and protective factors (e.g. connectedness, hope, resilience) impacting suicide; leverages current prevention practices and fills gaps by selecting multiple and complementary strategies with the best available evidence using CDC's Preventing Suicide: A Technical Package of Policy, Programs, and Practices; rigorously evaluates the overall approach and individual activities; feeds data back into the system for quality improvement and sustainability; and effectively communicates results. The purpose of this NOFO is to implement and evaluate this approach to suicide prevention, with attention to vulnerable populations (e.g., veterans, tribal populations, rural communities, LGBTQ, homeless, other) that account for a significant proportion of the suicide burden and have suicide rates greater than the general population in a jurisdiction(s) (e.g., state, city/county, tribe). Key outcomes include a 10% reduction in suicide morbidity and mortality in the jurisdiction(s).

Strengthening Aging Services for Minority Populations Through Technical Assistance, Resource Development, and Program Coordination Synopsis 1 – HHS Department of Health and Human Services -Administration for Community Living

DEADLINE: May 29, 2020 Electronically submitted applications must be submitted no later than 11:59 p.m., ET, on the listed application due date.

AMOUNT: $221,000

DESCRIPTION: This forecast is for two related funding opportunities that will be addressed in one funding opportunity announcement. Applicants are eligible to apply for one or both opportunities. The maximum number of awards any single applicant can receive is two - one for the Minority Aging Technical Assistance & Resource Center (TARC) Program, which would focus on a specific minority group, and one for the Coordinating Center for Minority Aging TARC Programs. Information on each of the funding opportunities are detailed below.

OPPORTUNITY 1: Minority Aging Technical Assistance & Resource Center (TARC) Program (Maximum number of awards: 5; Award Ceiling: $221,000; Award Floor: $215,000)

Within the older adult population, there exists considerable diversity with respect to race, ethnicity, cultural background; and sexual orientation/gender identity. Diverse older adults often encounter unique challenges when seeking home and community-based services and other long-term care. The Older Americans Act (OAA) mandates that services and supports it funds be targeted with particular attention paid to those in greatest economic and social need and who are further isolated by their race/ethnicity and/or English speaking proficiency. Many human services organizations serving older adults and their families report needing training and technical assistance to better target and serve diverse populations. Similarly, diverse older adults themselves can often benefit more equitably from culturally appropriate services and supports. The two primary objectives of this new Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) are as follows:

1. Develop and disseminate training and technical assistance to strengthen the national capacity to address the multi-faceted needs of a diverse older adult population in areas such as (but not limited to) economic security, access to services, housing needs, self-advocacy, family and caregiver supports, and trauma informed approaches.
2. Develop, test and disseminate approaches that aging and human services network agencies can employ to more successfully work one-on-one with diverse older adults, their families, and family caregivers.

NORTHWEST PORTLAND AREA INDIAN HEALTH BOARD

ACL anticipates awarding up to five cooperative agreements under Opportunity Number 1, one each focusing on the following diverse older adult populations: African American, Hispanic, Asian Pacific Islander, Native American and LGBT. No entity will be awarded more than one award under Opportunity 1.

OPPORTUNITY 2: Coordinating Center for Minority Aging TARC Program (Maximum number of awards: 1; Award Ceiling: $75,000; Award Floor: $50,000)

The Coordinating Center will work to ensure that the five ACL-funded Minority Organizations Technical Assistance Programs are working together as a cohesive unit, sharing information with each other, across the Aging Network, with other ACL funded Resource Centers, as well as ensure the TA programs are sharing information through regular trainings, webinars, and joint conference presentations. The Coordinating Center will ensure that the coalition of five TARC programs, funded under Opportunity Number 1, serve as an integrated resource for the Aging Network to accomplish its work in culturally sensitive and culturally competent manner.

The Coordinating Center grantee will develop and test methods for ensuring the Minority Aging TARC Programs are effectively coordinated in their TA efforts while at the same time, exploring opportunities to expand the reach and focus to other diverse populations and the programs that serve them. While the aging services network routinely meets targeting requirements, there remains considerable opportunity to bolster the capacity of the aging services network to better target and serve diverse populations. The primary goal (objective) of the proposed new Coordinating Center are threefold:

To the greatest extent possible, explore ways to ensure that ACL's Minority Aging TARC Program is effectively reaching target populations, while looking more broadly for opportunities to engage other diverse populations, including persons with disabilities; 2. Where appropriate, work with other ACL-funded resource centers to ensure the needs of diverse older adults, families and family caregivers are addressed; and 3. Explore and support opportunities for the Minority Aging TARC Program grantees to support the replication and translation of best practices to the disability services networks.
