Russell Sage Foundation Invites LOIs for Timely Social Science Research

DEADLINE: May 21, 2020 (Letters of Inquiry)

AMOUNT: SEE WEBSITE.

DESCRIPTION: One of the oldest American foundations, the Russell Sage Foundation was established by Mrs. Margaret Olivia Sage in 1907 for "the improvement of social and living conditions in the United States." In pursuit of this mission, the foundation now dedicates itself to strengthening the methods, data, knowledge, and theoretical core of the social sciences as a means of diagnosing social problems and improving social policies.

Due to the effects of COVID-19 on all facets of American life, the foundation is changing its immediate priorities for Letters of Inquiry for its upcoming deadline. Under the new priority, the foundation will only consider LOIs that satisfy the following criteria: research so timely and time-sensitive that the project must start before April 1, 2021; or research that analyzes social, political, economic, or psychological disruptions resulting from the coronavirus crisis affecting social and living conditions in the United States.

All LOIs must focus on issues related to the foundation's core program areas and special initiatives, which include:

Behavioral Economics — Research that uses insights and methods from psychology, economics, sociology, political science, and other social sciences to examine and improve social and living conditions.

Decision-Making and Human Behavior in Context — Research on decision making across the social sciences that examines causes, consequences, processes, or context from a behavioral or alternative perspective.

Future of Work — Projects that examine a wide range of causal factors that may have depressed wages of low-education workers, from foreign outsourcing and immigration to the decline of unions and technological change.

Race, Ethnicity, and Immigration — Research investigating multidisciplinary perspectives on questions stemming from the significant changes in the racial, ethnic, and immigrant-origin composition of the U.S. population.

Social, Political, and Economic Inequality — Research examining the factors that contribute to existing inequities; the extent to which these inequalities affect social, political, and

Borealis Philanthropy Invites Applications to Immigration Litigation Fund

DEADLINE: June 1, 2020

AMOUNT: $75,000

DESCRIPTION: ILF is a national funder collaborative with a goal to ensure that the nation's immigration enforcement system is fair, humane, and prioritizes the civil and human rights of those vulnerable to deportation. ILF believes that litigation is an essential tool in achieving public policy and social change on immigration issues.

Historically, ILF has provided time-limited project support to litigation-specific projects. Due to the current economic and health crises related to COVID-19, grants awarded in this funding cycle will be general operating grants rather than project grants.

Grants will be awarded for impact litigation efforts that challenge immigration enforcement issues that include but are not limited to COVID-19's impact on immigration enforcement; customs and Border Protection accountability; FOIA litigation; exclusions to entry based on religion, region, or other factors; efforts that limit or restrict refugee admissions; efforts to expand the use of expedited removal; immigration detention, including conditions of confinement; ICE raids in workplaces or other locations; local and state law enforcement cooperation with ICE or Border Patrol; use of state and local government databases to identify deportable immigrants; prosecution for "illegal" entry or re-entry; access to counsel; withholding of state or federal funding to cities, campuses, or other locations that fail to cooperate with deportation efforts; limits on asylum or other programs that provide protection from persecution, violence, torture, or disasters, including but not limited to Withholding of Removal, CAT, and TPS; and challenges to criminal convictions as grounds for deportation or removal.

ILF will provide funding for needs related to impact litigation focused on immigration enforcement issues; convenings meant to advance coordination and strategy on an issue related to impact litigation efforts; and organizing and communications efforts that are related to impact litigation efforts.

AMOUNT: One-time grants of $1,500

DESCRIPTION: The Foundation for Contemporary Arts is inviting applications for its FCA Emergency Grants COVID-19 Fund.

In response to the impact of COVID-19 on the arts community, FCA has created a temporary fund to meet the needs of experimental artists who have been impacted by the economic fallout from postponed or canceled performances and exhibitions. For as long as the FCA board of directors determines it is necessary and prudent to do so, the foundation will disburse one-time grants of $1,500 to artists who have had performances or exhibitions canceled or postponed due to the pandemic.

In alignment with its mission, FCA will continue to focus its support on artists making work of a contemporary, experimental nature. Applicants must be an individual artist or an individual representing an artist collective, ensemble, or group. Curators, producers, workshop organizers, organizations, or arts presenters are not eligible to apply.

To be eligible, applicants must be living in the United States or one of its territories and have a U.S. Tax ID Number (SSN, EIN, ITIN, or other).

Artists Relief Invites Applications From Artists Facing COVID-Related Emergencies

DEADLINE: September 30, 2020

AMOUNT: $5,000

DESCRIPTION: Artist Relief is an initiative organized by the Academy of American Poets, Artadia, Creative Capital, the Foundation for Contemporary Arts, the MAP Fund, the National YoungArts Foundation, and United States Artists — all small to mid-sized national arts grantmakers — to help support the financial, professional, social, and mental well-being of artists impacted by the coronavirus public health crisis.

According to Artists and Other Cultural Workers: A Statistical Portrait, a study published in 2019 by the Office of Research & Analysis (ORA) at the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA), there are 2.5 million working artists in the United States.

Launched with $5 million from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and matched by an initial $5 million from two dozen other arts grantmakers, the initiative will distribute grants of $5,000 to artists facing dire financial emergencies due to COVID-19, as well as serve as an ongoing informational resource and co-sponsor (with Americans for the Arts) the COVID-19

Impact Survey for Artists and Creative Workers to identify and address the needs of artists moving forward.

The initiative will operate through September, as organizers monitor the impact of the pandemic and continue to fundraise to assist with the escalating needs of the country's artists.

Practicing artists living in all fifty states, territories, and tribal nations, working in any discipline, are eligible to apply for a grant. Applicants must be 21 or older, able to receive taxable income in the United States regardless of their citizenship status, and have generally lived and worked in the United States for the last two years. Due to expected demand, Artist Relief recognizes it will not be able to fund every applicant. Artists demonstrating the most severe needs will be prioritized, with an emphasis on funding widely across disciplines and geographies, as well as disability, ethnicity, and gender. Applications will be reviewed and assessed for eligibility and need in collaboration with cultural nonprofits across the country, who will assist in the determination and selection process.

Artist Relief coalition partners will make final eligibility determinations as needed.

Omidyar Network Welcomes Applications to Economic Response Advocacy Fund

DEADLINE: Rolling

AMOUNT: Between now and the end of the year, Omidyar Network plans to award $1.5 million to groups working to realign the nation's economic policies and systems so that they work better for everyone.

DESCRIPTION: As the coronavirus pandemic upends the economy, it is critical that government respond with action to support the stability and well-being of American families, particularly those already struggling economically and vulnerable to the consequences of an economic recession.

To inform this conversation, Omidyar Network's COVID-19 Economic Response Advocacy Fund will infuse 501(c)(4) funding into national, state, and local advocacy and organizing efforts aimed at passing economic stimulus to address the immediate toll of the COVID-19 pandemic on working people while reshaping economic structures to ensure they are less vulnerable in the future.

The fund is not intended to support entirely new efforts; instead, funds will be awarded to campaigns that are already in motion and can leverage 501(c)(4) dollars to capture the attention of policy makers. Omidyar Network will continue to review applications and award 501(c)(4) funding to support advocacy response work on a rolling basis through the rest of the year, with a focus on direct advocacy efforts aimed at achieving policy or regulatory solutions at the national, state, or local level that protect and assist working people and small businesses now and establish new precedents that improve worker power and well-being in the future; digital organizing that reconfigures campaigns that can no longer be carried out in person due to the virus; and/or strategic communications, coordination, and narrative development efforts that bring like-minded organizations together to create a more unified voice calling for policy and regulatory changes at the national, state, or local level that result in a stronger economy.

Through this open call for proposals, ON hopes to reach grassroots groups that are underresourced and hit hardest by fundraising constraints stemming from the current crisis. The rolling application process will get some funds to campaigns immediately while ensuring there are additional resources in reserve to maintain momentum throughout the year.

high and rising healthcare costs,
unwarranted variation in prices,
unaffordable cost of care burden on patients and families, unacceptable variation in quality, and lack of transparency in both price and outcomes.

Promote conversations between patients and their clinicians and care teams about preferences and trade-offs related to alternative treatment options and /or out of pocket cost burden to patients and families

Test interventions geared to reducing racial and ethnic disparities through the provision of higher value healthcare

In all programs, the Foundation requires applicants to demonstrate that they have reviewed their research questions, protocols, sampling, and data analyses to ensure that they do not inadvertently mask or exacerbate racial, ethnic or gender health inequities.

fatal firearm injuries, both intentional and nonintentional. The Joint Explanatory Statement accompanying the FY2020 Further Consolidated Appropriations Act (H.R. 1865) included funding for the NIH to conduct research on firearm injury and mortality prevention and recommended that NIH take a comprehensive approach to studying the underlying causes and evidence-based methods of prevention of firearm injury, including crime prevention. Within the legislative mandates and limitations of NIH funding (NOT-OD-20-068, NOT-OD-20-066), the NIH encourages research to improve understanding of the determinants of firearm injury, the identification of those at risk of firearm injury (including both victims and perpetrators), the development and evaluation of innovative interventions to prevent firearm injury and mortality, and the examination of approaches to improve the implementation of existing, evidence-based interventions to prevent firearm injury and mortality.

Notice of Funding Opportunity for NRCS's Regional Conservation Partnership Program (RCPP) – RCPP Alternative Funding Arrangement for Federal fiscal year (FY) 2020. USDA -Department of Agriculture -Natural Resources Conservation Service

DEADLINE: May 18, 2020

AMOUNT: $250,000

DESCRIPTION:

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

DUE DATE: Applications must be received by NRCS by 11:59pm Eastern Time on May 18th.

NOTE: This announcement is for the RCPP Alternative Funding Arrangement (AFA) competition, through which NRCS can make up to 15 awards per fiscal year, providing RCPP funding directly to eligible partners using a grant-like approach.

The fiscal year 2020 RCPP Classic funding announcement is scheduled for release in summer 2020. For RCPP Classic, a majority of RCPP funding is provided by NRCS to producers and landowners through contracts and conservation easements. Through AFAs, RCPP funding is provided to partners, which in turn are responsible for working with and providing funding to producers and landowners for eligible conservation activities.

The Regional Conservation Partnership Program (RCPP) promotes coordination of NRCS conservation activities with partners that offer value-added contributions that expand our collective ability to address on-farm, watershed, and regional natural resource concerns. NRCS seeks to co-invest with RCPP partners to implement projects that demonstrate innovative solutions to conservation challenges and provide measurable improvements and outcomes tied to the resource concerns they seek to address.

Through RCPP, partners propose projects—using guidance contained in this notice—that generate conservation benefits by addressing specific natural resource objectives in a state/multistate area, or address one or more primary resource concerns within a Critical Conservation Area (CCA). NRCS and partners design, implement and evaluate RCPP projects on agricultural and non-industrial private forest land.

The 2018 Farm Bill reauthorized RCPP and made several substantive changes to the program. RCPP is now a standalone program driven by three key objectives—incentivizing innovation and flexibility, leveraging partner contributions and measuring environmental outcomes. NRCS will co-invest in projects selected through a competitive application process that evaluates applications based on four criteria: impact, partner contributions, innovation, and partnerships and management.

Another change to the RCPP statute modified a provision authorizing NRCS to provide funding to entities through AFAs, leading to the development of this RCPP AFA funding announcement. RCPP AFA is intended to support project structures and approaches that cannot be carried out as effectively through RCPP Classic.

RCPP AFA applicants must describe the innovative nature of the conservation approach they are proposing to justify potential funding through the AFA funding announcement, versus RCPP Classic. Additionally, applicants should consider the additional administrative and technical assistance responsibilities that accompany receipt of an AFA award.

The 2018 Farm Bill statute provides examples of project types that might be implemented through RCPP AFA:

Projects that use innovative approaches to leverage the Federal investment in conservation;

Projects that deploy a pay-for-performance conservation approach;

Projects that seek large-scale infrastructure investments that generate conservation benefits for agricultural producers and nonindustrial private forest owners.

Although RCPP AFA provides flexibilities to partners, these projects share the overarching focus of RCPP — engaging with producers and landowners to implement conservation practices, systems and approaches on or for the benefit of agricultural and forest lands.

This notice announces the availability of funding for up to 15 RCPP AFA projects in fiscal year 2020. Applications are accepted from all 50 States, the Caribbean Area (Puerto Rico and U.S. Virgin Islands), and U.S. territories in the Pacific Island Areas (Guam, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands).

SUBMISSIONS: Applications must be submitted through the RCPP Portal: <https://nrcc-sites.secure.force.com/>

FOR MORE INFORMATION: A webinar for interested RCPP applicants is scheduled for 3 p.m. Eastern Time on April 2nd. health approach to suicide prevention. Such an approach includes strong leadership as the convener of multi-sectoral partnerships; prioritizes data to identify vulnerable populations and to better characterize risk (e.g., relationship, job/financial, mental health problems) and protective factors (e.g. connectedness, hope, resilience) impacting suicide; leverages current prevention practices and fills gaps by selecting multiple and complementary strategies with the best available evidence using CDC's Preventing Suicide: A Technical Package of Policy, Programs, and Practices; rigorously evaluates the overall approach and individual activities; feeds data back into the system for quality improvement and sustainability; and effectively communicates results. The purpose of this NOFO is to implement and evaluate this approach to suicide prevention, with attention to vulnerable populations (e.g., veterans, tribal populations, rural communities, LGBTQ, homeless, other) that account for a significant proportion of the suicide burden and have suicide rates greater than the general population in a jurisdiction(s) (e.g., state, city/county, tribe). Key outcomes include a 10% reduction in suicide morbidity and mortality in the jurisdiction(s).

NORTHWEST PORTLAND AREA INDIAN HEALTH BOARD
Funding Opportunities

MAY 2020

AMOUNT: $221,000

DESCRIPTION: This forecast is for two related funding opportunities that will be addressed in one funding opportunity announcement. Applicants are eligible to apply for one or both opportunities. The maximum number of awards any single applicant can receive is two - one for the Minority Aging Technical Assistance & Resource Center (TARC) Program, which would focus on a specific minority group, and one for the Coordinating Center for Minority Aging TARC Programs. Information on each of the funding opportunities are detailed below.

OPPORTUNITY 1: Minority Aging Technical Assistance & Resource Center (TARC) Program
(Maximum number of awards: 5; Award Ceiling: $221,000; Award Floor: $215,000)

Within the older adult population, there exists considerable diversity with respect to race, ethnicity, cultural background; and sexual orientation/gender identity. Diverse older adults often encounter unique challenges when seeking home and community-based services and other long-term care. The Older Americans Act (OAA) mandates that services and supports it funds be targeted with particular attention paid to those in greatest economic and social need and who are further isolated by their race/ethnicity and/or English speaking proficiency. Many human services organizations serving older adults and their families report needing training and technical assistance to better target and serve diverse populations. Similarly, diverse older adults themselves can often benefit more equitably from culturally appropriate services and supports. The two primary objectives of this new Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) are as follows:

1. Develop and disseminate training and technical assistance to strengthen the national capacity to address the multi-faceted needs of a diverse older adult population in areas such as (but not limited to) economic security, access to services, housing needs, self-advocacy, family and caregiver supports, and trauma informed approaches.
2. Develop, test and disseminate approaches that aging and human services network agencies can employ to more successfully work one-on-one with diverse older adults, their families, and family caregivers.

ACL anticipates awarding up to five cooperative agreements under Opportunity Number 1, one each focusing on the following diverse older adult populations: African American, Hispanic, Asian Pacific Islander, Native American and LGBT. No entity will be awarded more than one award under Opportunity 1.

OPPORTUNITY 2: Coordinating Center for Minority Aging TARC Program (Maximum number of awards: 1; Award Ceiling: $75,000; Award Floor: $50,000)

The Coordinating Center will work to ensure that the five ACL-funded Minority Organizations Technical Assistance Programs are working together as a cohesive unit, sharing information with each other, across the Aging Network, with other ACL funded Resource Centers, as well as ensure the TA programs are sharing information through regular trainings, webinars, and joint conference presentations. The Coordinating Center will ensure that the coalition of five TARC programs, funded under Opportunity Number 1, serve as an integrated resource for the Aging Network to accomplish its work in culturally sensitive and culturally competent manner.

The Coordinating Center grantee will develop and test methods for ensuring the Minority Aging TARC Programs are effectively coordinated in their TA efforts while at the same time, exploring opportunities to expand the reach and focus to other diverse populations and the programs that serve them. While the aging services network routinely meets targeting requirements, there remains considerable opportunity to bolster the capacity of the aging services network to better target and serve diverse populations. The primary goal (objective) of the proposed new Coordinating Center are threefold:

To the greatest extent possible, explore ways to ensure that ACL's Minority Aging TARC Program is effectively reaching target populations, while looking more broadly for opportunities to engage other diverse populations, including persons with disabilities; 2. Where appropriate, work with other ACL-funded resource centers to ensure the needs of diverse older adults, families and family caregivers are addressed; and 3. Explore and support opportunities for the Minority Aging TARC Program grantees to support the replication and translation of best practices to the disability services networks.

Engaging Older Adults - Department of Health and Human Services Administration for Community Living

DEADLINE: May 29, 2020 Electronically submitted applications must be submitted no later than 11:59 p.m., ET, on the listed application due date.

AMOUNT: $150,000

DESCRIPTION: Description: The Administration on Aging (AoA), a division of the Administration for Community Living, working with a national network of state, tribal, and local agencies, is committed to ensuring that current and future older adults have the information, tools, and services they need to remain healthy and the support they need to remain independent and active for as long as possible. Recently much has been learned about the individual and societal impact of social isolation and loneliness. Based on current estimates, isolation is a social problem that impacts as many as 17% of older Americans.[i] A large body of literature indicates that social isolation and loneliness have negative impacts on health of older adults and is associated with an increased risk of dying. According to a report by the AARP Public Policy Institute and Stanford University, social isolation among people with Medicare is associated with an estimated $6.7 billion in additional Medicare spending every year.[ii] That's comparable to additional program spending for people with chronic conditions like high blood pressure. Research has linked social isolation and loneliness to higher risks for a variety of physical and mental conditions[iii]. In fact, a Brigham Young University study found that prolonged social isolation is as harmful to health as smoking 15 cigarettes a day, and is more harmful than obesity.[iv]

NORTHWEST PORTLAND AREA INDIAN HEALTH BOARD Funding Opportunities

MAY 2020

But research also suggests that remaining socially engaged improves the quality of life for older adults and is associated with better health.

Evidence suggests that social engagement helps maintain thinking skills and slows cognitive decline in later life.[v]

Older adults report feeling healthier and happier when they participate in what they see as meaningful activities, like volunteering in their communities.[vi]

Older adults who participate in senior center programs can learn to manage and delay the onset of chronic disease and experience measurable improvements in their physical, social, spiritual, emotional, mental, and economic wellbeing.[vii]

Participation in intergenerational engagement programs helps older adults feel more generative.[viii]

Participation in professionally conducted community-based cultural programs can help older adults improve their quality of life.[ix]

AoA is interested in expanding the reach of the aging network to more effectively assist seniors to remain socially engaged and active. AoA has a long history of supporting projects that seek to enhance the lives of older adults through a variety of activities, including volunteerism, physical activity, and intergenerational efforts. Recently, ACL has supported an Engagement and Older Adults Resource Center that has provided information and resources to the aging network on myriad ways older adults can engage through a variety of interventions, including volunteer opportunities, intergenerational interactions, technology, and creative pursuits.

AoA is interested in continuing efforts to foster interventions that support the aging network's ability to engage older adults. AoA is seeking to fund one cooperative agreement to provide national technical assistance and serve as a repository for innovations that can be successfully replicated at the local level. While the previous effort looked at social engagement from a broad perspective this funding announcement seeks applications that will focus on specific targeted intervention areas.

Target areas could include:

Community involvement: Senior center, recreational programs, senior housing

Technology: Artificial intelligence interventions, online and digital approaches

Intergenerational: Educational interventions, mentoring, co-located efforts

Volunteerism: Nutrition and transportation programs, friendly visiting, telephone-based support

Native American Agriculture Fund Invites Applications

DEADLINE: June 1, 2020

AMOUNT: SEE WEBSITE.

DESCRIPTION: The Native American Agriculture Fund (NAAF) was created in 2018 by the settlement of the Keepseagle v. Vilsack litigation and works to support Native American farmers and ranchers and promote their continued engagement in agriculture.

To that end, the NAAF has issued an RFA seeking proposals for projects that deliver developed content with practical application to the success of Native farmers and ranchers in line with the four areas important to the success of Native farmers and ranchers: business assistance, agricultural education, technical support, and advocacy. Funds may be used for project support, scholarships, re-grants, or capital expenditures.

The four types of entities supported through the RFA include:

CDFIs — A total of $4 million will be awarded in support of projects proposed by eligible entities that can provide proof of a current agriculture lending portfolio or a demonstrated need through public input from their service area that such lending opportunities are needed by the Native farmers and ranchers they serve.

Educational Institutions — A total of $2 million will be awarded in support of educational institutions that currently provide, and have in place, advanced agricultural agriculture-related classroom training, classroom education programs, agriculture programs, and/or professional degree programs (ag law, veterinary, engineering, etc.); scholarships; or curriculum development and applied research in topics important to the success of Native farmers and ranchers, including career technical training.

Nonprofit Organizations — A total of $3 million will be awarded in support of projects related to business assistance, technical support, agricultural education, or advocacy. Nonprofit organizations must provide proof that they currently serve Native farmers and ranchers and are required to reflect the percentage of their larger portfolio of activities that are focused solely on the needs of Native farmers and ranchers.

Tribal Governments — A total of $2 million will be awarded in support of the narrow area of “value-added” agriculture enterprise development and for projects related to regionalized/localized food systems development that would ensure short-term stability in Native food systems as well as long-term needs for resiliency and sustainability across individual, regional, and landscape areas. Funding may be sought for feasibility studies, the securing of architectural, engineering, legal, or other technical advisors for future value-added agriculture enterprises.

In addition, in 2020 the NAAF will award funding for proposals in four special emphasis areas: traditional foods/food sovereignty, advocacy, youth programming, and agricultural extension.

Traditional Foods and Food Sovereignty Programs — A total of $1 million will be awarded in support of wide-ranging traditional foods and food sovereignty movements and local community activities that are occurring across Indian Country.

Advocacy — While NAAF is not allowed to support direct lobbying or political activity with funding support, NAAF also believes that support of the Native Farm Bill Coalition (NFBC) and the related efforts to support the continued work of the coalition is essential to the long-term support of Native agriculture and food systems development in the United States. To that end, a total of $1 million will be awarded in support of work of the coalition focused on research, education, publications, and technical assistance related to allowing Native farmers and ranchers and NAAF-eligible entities to gain deeper understanding of the policies and programs funded by the recurring Farm Bill, topics for which ongoing tribal consultation is occurring related to implementation and the development of pre- and post-Farm Bill activities. Work may also be supported related to analyzing the development of policies and programs in response to COVID-19 impacts to agriculture and food access areas.

Youth Programming — A total of $1 million will be awarded in support of programs that provide information and guidance to Native youth interested in choosing food and agriculture (farming and ranching or food systems/food sovereignty activities) as their future career choice.

Eligible applicants include tax-exempt organizations as defined by section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, educational organizations, CDFIs or Native CDFIs, and tribal governments (state or federally-recognized) or instrumentalities of those governments.
