PROTECT OUR ELDERS

Millions of elder Americans are abused, neglected, or exploited each year. American Indian/Alaska Native elders are respected for their experience and wisdom. As community members we need to protect our elders.

Elder abuse is any abuse and/or neglect of persons age 60 and older by a caregiver or another person in a relationship involving an expectation of trust.

Forms of elder abuse:

- Neglect – Leaving an elder alone and/or denying basic physical, emotional, or social needs like food, medicine and companionship
- Physical abuse – Punching, slapping, shoving, burning, etc.
- Sexual abuse – Using force or intimidation to make an elder engage in an unwanted sexual act
- Emotional abuse – Isolation, intimidation, controlling behavior, or verbal abuse such as yelling, name-calling, blaming, and shaming
- Financial abuse or exploitation – Unauthorized or improper use of an elder's financial resources, like taking money from a bank account without permission

Signs of elder abuse:

- Frequent arguments or tension between the caregiver and elder
- Changes in personality or behavior
- Unkempt clothes or hygiene
- Caregiver's refusal to allow you to see the elder alone
