My life matters. I am here for a reason. My story has just begun.
Protect yourself and your family from suicide.

- Connect those at-risk to mental health services
- Seek spirituality
- Avoid drugs and alcohol
- Talk to others about hopes and dreams
- Improve problem-solving skills and relationships with friends, family, community, culture, and social institutions
- Maintain good physical and emotional health

Know the warning signs.

If someone you know has experienced trauma—a loss or a big change in their life—or if their behavior or mood has changed, talk with them.

Ask how they’re feeling. Be a good listener.

And if you or someone you know has been showing warning signs, please get help. To see a full list of warning signs, visit www.wernative.org/articles/suicide-warning-signs.

Suicide is preventable.
