National Public Health Week

National Public Health Week is
April 5-11, 2021

We can create the healthiest nation. Let the National Public Health Week website show you how.

During the first full week of April each year, APHA brings together communities across the United States to observe National Public Health Week as a time to recognize the contributions of public health and highlight issues that are important to improving our nation.

APHA creates new NPHW materials each year that can be used during and after NPHW to raise awareness about public health and prevention.
